Certified Correctional Health Professional

EXPERTISE... LEADERSHIP... RECOGNITION... SUCCESS

The Premier National Certification Program for Professionals in Correctional Health Care

Professional Advancement

Participation in NCCHC's Certified Correctional Health Professional program is an investment in your future that will give you a professional edge. Certification recognizes the mastery of national standards and the knowledge expected of leaders in this complex, specialized field. The CCHP credential is a symbol of achievement and leadership, and is highly valued not only by participants but also by employers.

The rewards of a career in correctional health care are many: experience with a wide variety of patients, playing an important role in public health and working with other dedicated professionals, to name just a few. But correctional settings also present unique challenges: strict security regulations, crowded facilities, the myriad legal and public health considerations of providing care to incarcerated populations and more. Achieving professional certification is the surest way to prove that you have the tools to meet these challenges.

Eligibility Requirements

Professionals from many different disciplines and work settings have earned the CCHP designation. All correctional health professionals who meet the following eligibility requirements are encouraged to become certified:

- Credentials appropriate to the applicant’s field and employment position and the requirements of the state in which the applicant is licensed. The credentials must be free of any restriction that would limit professional practice solely to the correctional setting.
- Good character and fitness. An applicant’s record of conduct should justify the trust of patients, employers and others.
- Successful completion of the CCHP examination.
