Learn more about all of these critical topics ... and more.

Affordable Care Act and Its Impact on Corrections
What impact will the ACA have on your current and long-term funding and resources? Learn how it will be implemented in corrections and what changes will be necessary at your facility.

Mental Health
More than a dozen sessions are offered to help you manage difficult conditions and concerns such as ADHD, administrative segregation, self-injury, use of the DSM-5 and more. Plus, it’s the first chance to take the new CCHP-MH (mental health) specialty certification exam.

Nursing Issues
The National Conference has a special focus on key nursing issues. From a seven-part nursing leadership program to hands-on practice and ANA standards, this conference is the place to be for nurses in correctional health care.

Clinical Care
Getting the best quality care for the patients under difficult conditions demands knowledge and dedication. Get up to date on treating chronic conditions, managing pain and preventing future illness.

Administrative issues, special populations, legal concerns, medication management and more ... join us in Nashville to learn and connect!

Why Nashville?
“One of the world’s top places to visit in 2013” —Condé Nast Traveler

Set amid the gentle hills and farmlands of central Tennessee, sprawling Nashville attracts millions of visitors each year. Most come to immerse themselves in country music, whether at mainstream showcases like the Country Music Hall of Fame and the Grand Ole Opry, or in the smaller clubs and honky-tonks found not only downtown but also in Nashville’s many neighborhoods.

But while music is the lifeblood of Nashville, visitors will also find a city of culture and history, of haute cuisine, natural beauty and pure Southern charm. Nashville is a place where the past and the future peacefully coexist and build, one on the other, to create a destination that appeals to the interests of every visitor. This city is alive. You can feel its pulse when you walk down its sidewalks. And, fortunately, you can also hear it almost anywhere you go.

Join us for great times in Nashville!
CONFERENCE EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

Attendees will be able to:

• List major health care issues that commonly affect incarcerated individuals, including diabetes, hepatitis, HIV, hypertension, mental illness, oral health and substance abuse
• Describe current legal, ethical and administrative issues and ways to prevent potential problems that arise in correctional settings
• Employ new practices for the treatment of major health care issues in order to better manage common medical, nursing, dental and mental health problems found in correctional settings
• Express increased understanding of common correctional health care issues by exchanging ideas with colleagues about new developments in specialty areas

Continuing Education Credit

The maximum CE hours indicated below include participation in preconference seminars.

CCHPs: Certified Correctional Health Professionals may earn up to 32 contact hours of Category I continuing education for recertification.

Nurses: The National Commission on Correctional Health Care is accredited as a provider of continuing nursing education by the American Nurses Credentialing Center’s Commission on Accreditation. NCCHC designates this educational activity for a maximum of 32 contact hours.

P-01 & P-02 An In-Depth Look at NCCHC’s 2014 Standards for Health Services

Choose one: Jails or Prisons

9:00 am – 5:00 pm

These seminars will be the first to discuss the new 2014 Standards. The Standards are NCCHC’s latest recommendations for managing health care delivery in adult correctional facilities and the foundation of its accreditation program. The editions have been updated from 2008 and recognize current practices and conditions in the field and the most up-to-date evidence-based practices. Whether or not your facility is accredited (or plans to be), these practical seminars will give an overview of the changes and guidance in how to achieve and demonstrate compliance. You will leave equipped to implement quality improvements that will lead to more efficient and effective delivery of services, better patient health care, fewer adverse events and reduced liability risk. The registration fee includes a copy of the Standards for the setting (jail or prison), to be mailed as soon as they are available—an estimated $70 value.

Educational Objectives

- Describe how to comply with the NCCHC standards
- Identify ways to improve quality in health services delivery systems
- Discuss strategies for reducing liability and risk

P-03 An In-Depth Look at NCCHC’s Standards for Mental Health Services in Correctional Facilities

9:00 am – 5:00 pm

The groundbreaking Standards for Mental Health Services provides a framework for improved mental health care delivery and outcomes in adult correctional facilities. The foundation of NCCHC’s mental health accreditation program, these standards parallel those for health services in format and substance. The difference is that they make more explicit what the standards require for adequate delivery of mental health services. Whether or not your facility plans to be accredited, this practical seminar will explain what the standards say with regard to the general areas of care and treatment, clinical records, administration, personnel and legal issues. You will leave equipped to implement quality improvements that will lead to more efficient and effective delivery of services, better patient care, fewer adverse events and reduced liability risk. The registration fee includes a copy of the Mental Health Standards—a $70 value.

Educational Objectives

- Describe how to comply with the NCCHC standards
- Identify ways to improve quality in mental health services delivery systems
- Discuss strategies for reducing liability and risk

P-04 Nursing Skills Forum: Hands-On Practice in Five Key Skills

1:30 pm – 5:00 pm

_Eileen Couture, DO, CCHP, OSF Saint Elizabeth Medical Center_

Nurses are often called upon to think and react to unpredictable situations using critical skills but may have few opportunities to have hands-on practice in key skills, such as use of a defibrillator or initiating an IV. What better way to review necessary nursing skills than hands-on practice? This review will blend hands-on sessions with focused lectures on the AED, EKGs, TB skin testing and intravenous initiation, as well as communication skills. Each participant will have the opportunity to practice each skill with guidance in a relaxed learning environment.

Educational Objectives

- Describe a simple, effective way to standardize communication between health care providers
- Review indications and use of the AED and EKG
- Demonstrate the proper technique of intravenous initiation and TB skin testing
Sunday, October 27

P-05 Affordable Care Act and How It Will Affect Correctional Health Care

9:00 am – 12:30 pm

Major provisions of the Affordable Care Act take effect in 2014. This seminar will discuss how the ACA will affect health care in corrections, with a focus on what correctional health care professionals must consider to meet the law’s requirements and take advantage of the opportunities presented by health care reform. Coordination with state Medicaid agencies and other organizations will be critical and can result in significant savings for correctional health care.

Educational Objectives

- Describe the key provisions of the ACA that will have an impact on correctional health care
- Outline steps to take to successfully plan for the ACA in 2014
- Develop strategies for partnerships with state and community agencies that can help correctional institutions

P-06 Beyond Good and Evil: Inside the Mind of the Psychopath

9:00 am – 12:30 pm

Dean Aufderheide, PhD, Florida Department of Corrections

Take an extraordinary journey through the twisted corridors of the mysterious mind of the psychopath. This seminar will explore the origin and evolution of the concept of the psychopath while peeling back the layers of criminal thinking to discover how and why psychopaths see the world the way they do. It will investigate the genetic and environmental influences on psychopath behavior and learn how the minds of some individuals may be wired for crime and why their distorted inclinations are beyond good and evil. Using videotaped interviews of psychopaths, participants will learn to identify the unique signs and symptoms of the psychopathic personality and the distinct traits that are “inside the mind of the psychopath.”

Educational Objectives

- Describe the origin and historical evolution of the concept of psychopathy
- Identify the diagnostic criteria and distinctive traits that comprise the psychopath personality
- Explore the issues and concerns in managing the psychopath in correctional settings

P-07 Correctional Nursing: Applying the New ANA Scope and Standards of Practice (Part 1)

9:00 am – 12:30 pm

Patricia Voermans MSN, CCHP-RN; Catherine Knox MN, RN, CCHP-RN; Margaret Collatt, BSN, CCHP-RN, CCHP-A; Deborah Stewart, MSN, FNP-C, CCHP; Jacqueline Moore, PhD, RN, CCHP-RN, CCHP-A; JoRene Kerns, BSN, RN, CCHP; Lori Roscoe, PhD, MPA, CCHP-RN; Mary Muse, MSN, RN, CCHP-RN, CCHP-A

The American Nurses Association has recognized correctional nursing as a specialty area of practice since 1985. The ANA Correctional Nursing: Scope and Standards of Practice defines the specialty, describes its distinguishing features, delineates the basic principles that guide correctional nursing practice and offers guidance on practice improvement. The second edition was published this year. Members of the ANA Scope and Standards Workgroup will describe the process used to revise the manual and highlight emerging themes and content changes. In Part 1 of this two-part series, the scope of correctional nursing practice and the six standards of practice will be discussed. Case examples are used to illustrate how the standards of assessment, diagnosis, outcomes identification, planning, implementation and evaluation can be applied in the correctional setting.

Educational Objectives

- Describe the relevance of the ANA scope and standards to professional practice
- Identify an aspect of the ANA scope and standards for correctional nursing that has significance for one’s own practice
- List a resource or reference that can be used to further one’s understanding or application of the ANA scope and standards to professional practice

P-08 Guiding Principles for a Viable Suicide Prevention Program

1:30 pm – 5:00 pm

Lindsay Hayes, MS, National Center on Institutions and Alternatives

Suicide continues to be a leading cause of death in correctional facilities. These deaths represent a serious public health problem to correctional, medical and mental health administrators as well as their staff. Many of these deaths are preventable. This seminar will provide an overview of inmate suicide and offer guiding principles for suicide prevention and critical components to developing and/or revising suicide prevention policies.

Educational Objectives

- Identify the guiding principles for suicide prevention in correctional facilities
- List critical components to a suicide prevention program
- Describe the key elements to the mortality review process
P-09 Correctional Nursing: Applying the New ANA Scope and Standards of Practice (Part 2)
1:30 pm – 5:00 pm
Patricia Voermans MSN, CCHP-RN; Catherine Knox MN, RN, CCHP-RN; Patricia Blair, PhD, MSN, CCHP; Sue Smith, MSN, RN, CCHP-RN

The American Nurses Association has recognized correctional nursing as a specialty area of practice since 1985. The ANA Correctional Nursing: Scope and Standards of Practice defines the specialty, describes its distinguishing features, delineates the basic principles that guide correctional nursing practice and offers guidance on practice improvement. The second edition was published this year. Members of the ANA Scope and Standards Workgroup will describe the process used to revise the manual and highlight emerging themes and content changes. In Part 2 of this two-part series, the 10 standards of professional performance will be discussed. Case examples are used to illustrate how the standards of ethics, education, evidence-based practice, quality, communication, leadership, collaboration, professional practice evaluation, resource utilization and environmental health can be applied in the correctional setting.

Educational Objectives
- Describe the relevance of the ANA scope and standards to correctional nursing practice
- Identify an aspect of the ANA scope and standards for correctional nursing that has significance for one’s own practice
- List a resource or reference that can be used to further one’s understanding or application of the ANA scope and standards to professional practice

P-10 Practical Preparation for Initial NCCHC Accreditation
9:00 am – 12:30 pm
Tracey Titus, RN, CCHP, National Commission on Correctional Health Care

This seminar addresses the practicalities of NCCHC accreditation; it is not a standards review. Focus includes the four phases of the accreditation process: preparing your facility; what to expect during the survey, with tips on how to make the visit as painless as possible; Accreditation Committee review of findings and follow-up corrective action; and how to unwind afterward. Benefit from the experiences of those who have been through the process many times and have your questions answered. This seminar is intended for those unfamiliar with the process or those applying for accreditation for the first time.

Educational Objectives
- Review what to expect during an on-site survey
- Describe how to prepare your facility for accreditation
- Understand the accreditation review process and corrective follow-up

P-11 Prison Rape Elimination Act Training for Health Staff
1:30 pm – 5:00 pm
Beginning in August 2013, the U.S. Justice Department expects jails, prisons and juvenile confinement facilities to provide specialized training to medical and mental health personnel on specific areas of the law surrounding the Prison Rape Elimination Act. Attend this seminar to receive training on how to detect and assess signs of sexual abuse, preserve physical evidence and respond effectively and professionally to victims, all tailored for the health professional.

Educational Objectives
- Review the role of medical and mental health personnel in complying with the PREA standards
- Describe how to detect and assess signs of sexual abuse in inmates
- Discuss the appropriate professional response when inmate sexual abuse occurs

There is no charge to attend this session.

Strike It Lucky in the Exhibit Hall
At 11:00 on Tuesday, the excitement of the raffle begins. Gift cards, medical equipment, electronics and future conference registrations are all in the mix for the dozens of prizes that will be awarded. It’s fun and free! Come to the show floor to see for yourself!
Managing pharmaceutical costs for large correctional systems is a difficult task. Our pharmacy management team serves as a valuable resource to our prescribing clinicians, providing guidance on prescribing patterns and the latest research on the clinical efficacy of numerous medications. Through training, technical assistance, and one-on-one consultation with prescribers, our pharmacy team helps clinicians make better-informed decisions about medication usage that lowers costs and improves clinical outcomes. Pharmacy team leaders, Dr. Gregg Puffenberger and Vince Grattan engage clinicians in the medication management process by leading best-practices training sessions on site, attending our clients' pharmacy and therapeutics committee meetings, and hosting routine conference calls with clinicians and medical directors.

Results? Over the last four years our clients saved $50 million in psychotropic medication costs. One of our client states saved nearly $8 million in a 12-month period as a result of our medication management program.

Delivering correctional healthcare the right way costs less. To find out how, contact Dr. Gregg Puffenberger at 800.416.3649 or gpuffenberger@mhmservices.com.
Gain a Professional Edge: Invest in CCHP Certification

Participation in NCCHC’s Certified Correctional Health Professional program is an investment in your future that will give you a professional edge. Certification recognizes the mastery of national standards and the knowledge expected of leaders in this complex, specialized field. The CCHP credential is a symbol of achievement and leadership, and is highly valued not only by participants but also by employers.

New! Specialty Certification for Correctional Mental Health Professionals

NCCHC and the CCHP Board of Trustees are proud to announce the CCHP-Mental Health specialty certification. More than ever, correctional institutions require trained mental health professionals who can meet the challenges of serving a growing population of inmates with mental health needs. The CCHP-MH specialty certification will support a standardized level of training in the field, help mental health professionals build a foundation of expertise and help facilities evaluate the expertise of their staff.

For details, including eligibility requirements, elements of the application and more, visit the CCHP booth in the exhibit hall or website at www.ncchc.org/CCHP-MH. Or attend the special session during the conference: Mental Health Is Advancing – Are You? New Correctional Mental Health Specialty Certification.

CCHPs can sign up today to take the first CCHP-MH exam, which will take place on October 27, along with exams for CCHP-RN and CCHP.

Visit www.ncchc.org/CCHP for complete information and application forms. Applications are due by September 20.

National Correctional Health Professionals Week

Sunday, October 27 – Saturday, November 2

Correctional health professionals provide health care in some of the most challenging environments across the country, including adult jails and prisons, juvenile detention centers and a variety of alternative correctional settings. In recognition of their contributions, the Academy of Correctional Health Professionals proclaims October 27 – November 2 as National Correctional Health Professionals Week.

During this week, the Academy invites you to celebrate the ongoing efforts and achievements of correctional health professionals across the United States. The Academy is proud to be part of the premier educational meeting in our field: The National Conference on Correctional Care.
The GEO Group, Inc. is the world’s leading provider of correctional, detention, and community reentry services.

GEO employs top-notch talent, offers amazing benefits, promotes safety, and prepares inmates for reentry into society.
